Open House News

Hopkinton, MA—The new ofCourse Training Facility was the site for an open house kickoff on Tuesday, August 1, 2006. Turnout was moderate due to the oppressive heat; however we received a lot of positive and constructive feedback regarding the event. Those attending were from Holliston, Hopkinton, Ashland, and Framingham. They remarked that the facility was professional yet also comfortable. We conducted a Using the Internet Effectively hands-on seminar. Attendees found the training materials to be very comprehensive, interesting, and effective in teaching them new skills. Above is ofCourse instructor Teri Banerjee demonstrating some advanced internet browsing techniques to Pam Campagna (right) of Hopkinton.

Wine & Cheese!

We are holding a wine and cheese party from 6pm—9pm on August 10. Please come and bring friends to see the facility and test drive our excellent learning material. In attendance will be the trainers, several small business owners, and those from the open house held on August 1 (see article to the left).

Classroom Learning

ofCourse Consulting offers high quality traditional classroom training courses. Our seasoned instructors are not only experts in the subject matter of their classes, but also in the most successful and efficient methods of teaching and training. The classroom training materials, consisting of overhead presentations and step-by-step hands on instructions, are high quality. Our training methods are the best and provide strong fundamentals to advanced level techniques.

Online Learning

ofCourse Consulting offers online training programs which provide the best methods of web based self-paced e-learning (see below). While online learning is not for everyone, sometimes meeting class schedules on a consistent basis becomes challenging. The online learning that we offer is 100% in sync with our traditional classroom learning syllabi. We believe that a blended learning approach is most effective.
